WORKING EXPERIENCE

Valdosta State University
Computer Science Tutor

📅 Dec 2021   📍 Valdosta, Ga

- Tutored students with Computer Science related problems such as Java, Python,Web, Data Structure, etc.
- Effectively identified students' logic and syntax errors in code
- Thoroughly explained and then suggested different approaches to achieve the correct solution.

PROJECTS

Vending Machine System

- This application is needed to manage a company's vending machines.
- Customers can purchase products.
- Technicians can restock expired items, retrieve the cash from the machine, and stock a machine with an adequate amount of change
- Managers can generate various reports, by location, by machine, by products.

Newsletter App

- This website used MailChimp's API and Heroku for the website's backend. It has my information and the application for people subscribed and leave the contact information

Weather Forecast

- This website using API data from openweathermap.org and update into the website that I implemented.

Spam and Ham Classification

- Design a predictive model that can tell if a text message is spam or not
- Using Naive Bayes algorithm that I learned from Machine Learning class to create email spam filter
- After the classification, I created the confusion matrix, and final graph for the accuracy.

SUMMARY ABOUT MYSELF

I have built and tested various applications and projects in school, either by myself or with the group. Programming and networking are two things that I am quite passionate about. Willingness to take on more responsibilities to help the team achieve its objectives.
